If it is not worth mending it's not worth buying

THE LOGO

---

The logo Patch Percfect is funny and catchy and describes the campaign that encourage us to repair our clothes. The slogan brings us further in the campaign, it is not just about repairing, but about taking care of what we already have. The logo is made out of a dashed line that is representing a sewing line. It is simple and bring us into the campaign with a clear expression

I used the font SF Hollywood Hills. I think the imperfectness of the font fits the campaign well, in the way that imperfect is perfect. The font is also supposed to represent a classic, because classic lasts, which is an campaign idea that I think could be brought forward.

LOGO CLEAR SPACE

The minimum amount of clear space required around the logo is defined by “X.” “X” is the height of the stacked titles. “X” is in proportion to the size at which the logo is being used.

Using the clear space between the logo and other graphics or type in the composition ensures a clear presentation.

Additionally, the arrangement of the Patch Percept logo in concert with logos of other partners or supporters should be equally proportioned with the specified clear space between them.

LOGO USAGE

Outline how it should not be used. Do not rotate, warp, skew, or distort. Or use colors not specified.

Do not switch the Primary Colors.

Do not use any color except those from the approved palette.

Do not rotate the Mark.

Do not change the proportions of the Mark to the Typography.

Do not stretch or condense the logo.

HEADLINE: SF HOLLYWOOD HILLS

BODY COPY: American Typewriter

PATCH PERFECT

The fashion industry plays a substantial role in generating textile waste, with millions of tons of clothing finding their way into landfills annually. Clothing has become increasingly affordable and accessible, leading to a culture where we often neglect to care for what we already own. Patch Perfect aims to challenge this mindset by demonstrating that clothes can be repaired. More importantly, it seeks to serve as a reminder to appreciate and value what we have.

APPLICATION

Below are some examples of how the Patch Perfect brand elements may be used in brand applications such as business cards and a mending kit!
